A Humorous Novel

By ROBERT BARR

THE TRIUMPHS of EUGENE VALMONT

Eight Full-page Illustrations by EMLEN McCONNELL

12mo. Ornamental Cloth. $1.50

THIS is a detective novel giving a thrilling and yet humorous account of the triumphs of a great French detective, Eugene Valmont. He investigates many famous and extraordinary cases, ranging from jewelry robberies to elopements, both in England and France. The book is seriously exciting in spots, and wherever the reader is not thrilled and deeply interested he is amused.

D. APPLETON & COMPANY, Publishers, NEW YORK

IN OLD BELLAIRE

by Mary Dillon, Author of

"The Rose of Old St. Louis"

Happy contrasts, the keen portrayal of young blood and young hearts, the "Cranford"-like quiet of the town where the scene is laid, the excitement, adventures, and separations incident to the breaking out of the Civil War, make this about as enjoyable a story as one could reasonably wish. Illustrated. $1.50.

UNCLE WILLIAM

by Jennette Lee, Author of

"The Son of a Fiddler"

A most entertaining, whimsical and lovable character which has come to refresh a weary world. Uncle William liked to loaf and he loved the sea, like the true Nova Scotia fisherman he was. The tender absurdities of this old man's experiences, and the unfolding of a very pretty love story, make a tale of rare charm. Frontispiece. $1.00.

A New Novel by the Author of

"The Helmet of Navarre"

THE TRUTH ABOUT TOLNA

By Bertha Runkle

A swiftly-moving story which proves that there is as much romance in new Manhattan as in old Paris. It is a five-sided battle-royal between three men for the hearts of two bewitching American girls. The author's insight and ingenuity contrive to keep the interest at concert pitch throughout the story. A highly amusing novel of to-day. Frontispiece in four colors by Henry Hutt. $1.50.

A DIPLOMATIC ADVENTURE

by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell

Author of "Hugh Wynne," "Constance Trescot," etc.

The scene is laid in Paris at the time of the Civil War in America. Given a pretty woman who seeks the protection of a strange gentleman's cab, three Frenchmen of the kind made famous by Dumas in "The Three Musketeers," a couple of clever young Americans in their country's service, diplomatic mysteries and the possibility of three duels in the first part of the book,—and one may see that it is a story to be read at a sitting if possible. Frontispiece. $1.00.

THE LADY OF THE DECORATION

by Frances Little

This is a charming love story in which the heroine is a young and lovely widow who goes to Japan on a three years' contract as a kindergarten teacher. The glimpses of Japanese life are both new and thoroughly delightful. The book is one that, when once begun, will be read straight through. It is very clever. $1.00.

THE SHADOW OF LIFE

by Anne Douglas Sedgwick

Author of "The Rescue," etc.

This is the most unusual story Miss Sedgwick has ever written. The two chief characters typify two conflicting tendencies in modern thought. The heroine is one of the strongest and most vital creations in modern fiction—lovable, forceful, glorious. $1.50.

PAM DECIDES
By BETTINA VON HUTTEN
Author of "Pam," Illustrated, $1.50

We take great pleasure in announcing that we shall publish this Spring a sequel to "Pam," the novel which delighted so many readers last Spring.

COWARDICE COURT
By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
Author of "Nedra," etc.
With illustrations in color by Harrison Fisher, and decorations by T. B. Hapgood, $1.25

A great measure of favor will be given to "Cowardice Court." The story is full of love and adventure, and one is carried irresistibly by it from the first page to the end. The book resembles "The Day of the Dog" in make-up.

BARBARA WINSLOW, REBEL
By ELIZABETH ELLIS
Full-page illustrations and decorations, $1.50

This book, published January 20th, has already run into five editions. It is growing in popularity every day and is one of the more important publications of the season.

THE PATRIOTS
By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY
With illustrations in colors, $1.50

The story opens with a chapter in the life of Lee woven around the most tragic hour of his career.
It is a book that cannot but appeal to every American, to every patriot and to every woman.

A MOTOR CAR DIVORCE
By LOUISE CLOSSER HALE
12mo, cloth, $1.50

This clever story has been running serially in THE BOOKMAN. There are 36 illustrations, 10 of which are in color, by Walter Hale.

A LAME DOG'S DIARY
By S. MACNAUGHTAN
12mo, cloth, $1.50

The "Lame Dog" is not a dog at all, but a soldier who at Magersfontein was shot in the legs. Slowly recovering at home from his injuries, he finally adopts the device of a bewitching young widow and starts a diary.

THE GIRL WITH THE BLUE SAILOR
By BURTON EGBERT STEVENSON
Author of "The Marathon Mystery," etc.
12mo, cloth, illustrated, $1.50

A story in far different vein from the author's famous detective stories, yet withal a most delightful love story with a good plot and plenty of excellent character drawing.

THE SCHOLAR'S DAUGHTER
By BEATRICE HARRADEN
12mo, cloth, illustrated, $1.50

A charming love story, full of humor and sarcasm of a lighter sort. The ambition of the old scholar in the story is to found a great dictionary; but his daughter does not allow it to absorb him too thoroughly.

THE HILL
By HORACE A. VACHELL
12mo, cloth, $1.50.

A story of Harrow Hill, worthy to rank with "Tom Brown at Rugby." This book has gone into eight editions in England.

MY SWORD FOR LAFAYETTE
By MAX PEMBERTON
Author of "The Garden of Swords," etc.
12mo, cloth, illustrated, $1.50

The adventures of a young friend and companion of the Marquis de Lafayette. The stirring love story running through the tale is all that a romance of that period should be.

THE VICAR OF BULLHAMPTON
By ANTHONY TROLLOPE
Two volumes, 12mo, cloth, $2.50

This is the second in the series of "The Manor House Novels," of which "Orley Farm" is the first.

The True Andrew Jackson

A work that should be included in every Library

Mr. Brady has been studying the career of our seventh President for many years, scarcely leaving a volume unopened, or a sketch unread, that could throw light upon his many-sided personality and the many contradictory estimates of it. His book is a notable gathering of evidence in the way of opinions and anecdotes traced back to authentic sources.

An extended chronology of Jackson's life is prefixed to the volume, and an appendix embraces papers of historical importance mentioned in the text.

THE BUILDING OF A BOOK

Edited by FREDERICK H. HITCHCOCK

12mo, cloth. Price, $1.50 net

The story of how a book is produced and placed in the hands of the reader is here told in non-technical language by experts of acknowledged standing in every branch of the work. In all there are about thirty contributors to the volume, and any one who is at all interested in books will find it full of valuable and entertaining information.

WORSHIPPERS

By HENRY BERMAN

12mo, cloth. Price, $1.50

A narrative of a curious people that may fittingly be called The Intellectuals of the Russian Jewry in America, whose kin at the present hour are leading in the revolt shaking the Czar's domain. The strange figure of the heroine, Katherine Bronski, has few parallels in American fiction.

THE ART AND CRAFT OF THE AUTHOR

By C. E. HEISCH

12mo, cloth. Price, $1.20 net

This volume is designed for the use of the large and constantly increasing class who begin literary work without any special preparation for it. It offers practical suggestions upon the several stages of authorship, which suggestions are based on experience and can hardly fail to be useful.

IN OLDE CONNECTICUT

By CHARLES BURR TODD

Mr MEREDITH NICHOLSON

Author of "The House of a Thousand Candles"

Mr. Nicholson has had a varied experience for a man still considerably below forty.

He worked for three years in job printing offices, learned stenography, read law for a couple of years in an office where nobody cared if he read poetry, at eighteen took a prize offered by the Chicago Tribune for a short story, studied languages with a private tutor, and then went into the newspaper business for twelve years, beginning as police reporter and becoming in due course an editorial writer and book reviewer.

Mr. Nicholson has written much verse, and put forth a book of poems at twenty-two. He has published a social and critical history of Indiana called "The Hoosiers," and two novels prior to "The House of a Thousand Candles."

Negotiations are now in progress for a dramatization and dramatic production of "The House of a Thousand Candles," which is to-day the most popular novel in America.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

☞ The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price. ☜

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n.p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Anderson, Wilbert L. The country town: a study of rural evolution; with an introd. by Josiah Strong. N. Y., Baker & Taylor Co., [1906. F.] c. 5+307 p. D. cl., $1 net.

The book seeks to explain the experience of the American country people in the industrial and social revolution that has followed the introduction of machinery. The author has faith in the future of the country town, and his confidence is based on the results of a close and scientific scrutiny of the complex influences which are at work upon the population of country communities. His purpose is to excite interest in the problem of the necessary social reconstruction and the improved environment of the country town. He looks to rural mail delivery, the extension of the telephone system and electric roads to work wonders in education on which all lasting improvement must depend.

Barnes-Grundy, Mabel. Hazel of Heatherland. N. Y., Baker & Taylor Co., [1906.] 3-389 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

As "The vacillations of Hazel" this humorous romance of the river Dee on the borderland of Wales has already gained attention in England. A healthy, natural girl of twenty-two has led a most restricted life with her average, domestic mother and her straight-laced domineering older sister. She is invited on a visit to a step-aunt who teaches her much good worldly wisdom and finally takes upon herself to guide her life and end her vacillations. The contrast of Hazel's two lovers furnishes much interest and fun.

Bartholow, Roberts. A practical treatise on materia medica and therapeutics, by Roberts Bartholow; with new articles and additions by Paul Bartholow. 12th ed., rev. and enl. N. Y., Appleton, 1906. c. 25+866 p. 8°, cl., subs., $5.

Barton, J: Kennedy. Mechanical processes: a practical treatise on workshop appliances and operations for the instruction of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy. Annapolis, Md., United States Naval Institute, 1906. c. 356 p. il. diagrs., 8°, cl., $4.

Bell, Lilian. Carolina Lee; with frontispiece in col. by Dora Wheeler Keith. Bost., L. C. Page & Co., 1906. 4+352 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A Southern girl who has spent most of her life in France, where her father represented the United States, loses both parents suddenly but inherits a great fortune. She has dreamed all her life of rebuilding her ancestral home in Carolina. Many complications ensue. Carolina becomes a Christian Scientist and her influence converts many of her friends to the new thought and her perfect faith brings about many things that border on the miraculous.

Camp, Edgar Whittlesey, and Crowe, J: F., eds. The encyclopædia of evidence. v. 7, (Impeachment of witnesses to judicial notice.) Los Angeles, Cal., L. D. Powell Co., 1905. c. 1036 p. O, shp., $6.

Carnegie, Andrew. A league of peace: a rectorial address delivered to the students in the University of St. Andrews, 17th October, 1905. [Bost., Ginn, 1906.] 47 p. S. (Publications of the International Union.) pap., 10 c.

Cassius Dio Cocceianus. Dio's Rome: an historical narrative originally composed in Greek during the reigns of Septimius Severus, Geta and Caracalla, Macrinus, Elagabalus and Alexander Severus; and now presented in English form by Herbert Baldwin Foster. Troy, N. Y., Pafraets Book Co., 1906. c. 6 v., 8°, cl., ea., $2.

Cicero, Marcus Tullius. M. Tulli Ciceronis orationes: Pro Sex. Roscio; De imperio Cn. Pompeii; Pro Cluentio; In Catilinam; Pro Murena; Pro Caelio recognovit brevique adnotatione critica instruxit Albertus Curtis Clark. N. Y., Oxford University Press, (Amer. Branch,) [1906.] various paging, D. (Scriptorum classicorum bibliotheca Oxoniensis.) cl., 75 c.

Colvin, Sidney. Selected drawings from old masters in the University galleries and in the library at Christ church, Oxford; chosen and described by Sidney Colvin. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1905. pt. 4, portfolio, subs., $21.

Mounted drawings, accompanied by descriptive notes, of the Italian, French and Spanish schools and the schools of the Netherlands.

Currier, J: Ja. History of Newburyport, Mass., 1764-1905. Newburyport, Mass., [J: Ja. Currier,] 1906. c. 13-766 p. il. pors. maps, 8°, cl., $5; hf. mor., $6.

De Schweinitz, G: Edmund, M.D. Diseases of the eye: a handbook of ophthalmic practice for students and practitioners; with 313 ils. and six chromo-lithographic pls. 5th ed., rev. Phil., W. B. Saunders Co., 1906. c. 5-894 p. 8°, cl., $5.

Doherty, Ja. L. The law relating to auditors and masters in Massachusetts. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1906. c. 12+79 p. D. cl., *$1.25 net.

Drew, Mrs. Anna Atwood. The Karls of Karltonville and their new thought; or, the life beautiful: [a novel.] Bost., J. H. Earle & Co., 1905. c. 244 p. 12°, cl., $1.25.

Du Bois, Leo L. Saint Francis of Assisi, social reformer. N. Y., Benziger Bros., 1906. c. 2+250 p. D. cl., *$1 net.

In examining the abundant literature on St. Francis and his work, the author notes the absence of any study professedly treating him as a social reformer. In this work an attempt is made to present him in this light. Hence the sociological point of view is taken throughout. The steps by which he became a reformer are described, the work accomplished by him, the processes of his mind and the traits of his character as far as these affected his reform work and the social ideas and principles on which his reform work was grounded. Bibliography.

Elzas, Barnett Abraham. The Jews of South Carolina from the earliest times to the present day. Phil., Lippincott, (privately printed,) 1905. 352 p. il. por.

Erckmann, Émile, and Chatrian, Alexandre. Histoire d'un homme du peuple; ed. by R. E. A. Chessex. N. Y., Oxford University Press, (Amer. Branch,) 1906. 8+154 p. D. (Oxford modern French ser.; ed. by Leon Delbos.) hf. cl., 50 c.

Fisher, J: Irvine. Fisher's bank plan instalments; the instalment periods are monthly, bi-monthly, quarterly, four-months, semi-annual and annual, each covering a total of ten years at 4, 4½, 5, 5½, 6, 7, 8 and 10%; six per cent. adjusted instalments; complete book-keeping data, instructions and illustrations. Louisville, Ky., J. I. Fisher Publishing Co., [1905.] c. 3-48 p. 8°, rus., leased with outfit 5 yearly terms, $140, and up.

Fletcher, J:, and Shakespeare, W: The two noble kinsmen; written by the memorable worthies of their time, Mr. John Fletcher and Mr. William Shakespeare, gent.; ed., with notes, by W: J. Rolfe. [New ed., rev.] N. Y., Amer. Book Co., [1906.] 3-272 p. il. pors. S. cl., 56 c.

Lamb, Coleridge, Charles Knight, Dyce and other critics have believed that Shakespeare was one of the authors of the play. Dr. Rolfe, however, has become persuaded that Shakespeare did not write a line of it. He here gives an impartial summary of the evidence for and against the Shakespeare authorship. There are also notes, and an index of words and phrases explained.

Fowler, Russell Story. The operating room and the patient. Phil., W. B. Saunders Co., 1906. c. 5-172 p. il. plan, 8°, cl., *$2 net.

Gannett, H:, comp. A dictionary of altitudes in the United States. 4th ed., enl. Wash., D. C., Office U. S. Superintendent of Documents, 1906. 1072+2 p. O. (Department of the Interior, U. S. Geological Survey bulletin, Geography.) pap., 60 c.

Garland, Hamlin. The trail of the gold seekers: a record of travel in prose and verse. New issue. N. Y., Macmillan, 1906. c. 12°, $1.50.

Greenshields, E. B. Landscape painting and modern Dutch artists. N. Y., Baker & Taylor Co., [1906. F.] c. 17+229 p. il. O. cl., $2 net.

Concise history of landscape painting from the awakening of art in the 13th century is contained in the first two chapters, followed by quoted opinions about art by various critics and a consideration of nature and the poets. More than half the work, however, is devoted to a study of modern Dutch art as represented by Bosboom, Israels, Mauve, Weissenbruch and James, Matthew and William Maris. Appendix contains quotations at length from Ruskin, J. A. Symonds and W. J. Stillman. Throughout the book the author develops the idea of the subjective view of art. Forty-five half-tone reproductions of paintings.

Harker, Mrs. L. Allen. Concerning Paul and Fiammetta; with an introd. by Kate Douglas Wiggin. N. Y., Scribner, 1906. [Mr.] c. 12+320 p. D. cl., †$1.25.

Mrs. Wiggin tells in the introduction how a year ago in England she chanced upon a book called "A romance of the nursery," with which she was so charmed that she wrote to the author asking to have the pleasure of introducing her next book to American readers. Mrs. Harker's new story presents the same group of English children living on a country estate. Fiammetta is a little visitor whose father is a poet, and who was born in Florence and has lived in hotels. The pranks and mischief of the children; their companionship with dogs; their relations to their parents and each other are all described by one of the children themselves.

Heart throbs in prose and verse dear to the American people and by them contributed in the $10,000 prize contest initiated by the National Magazine, 1904-1905. Bost., Chapple Publishing Co., Ltd., [1906.] c. 13+416+16 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A collection of short poems, essays, anecdotes, apothegms, and stories gleaned from a vast mass of contributions, sent in, in answer to a prize offering for any literary matter that had appealed to the fancy, judgment or interests of the sender, and become dear to the heart, in short a veritable "heart throb" of the contributor.

Hodgdon, G: E., comp. Shannon genealogy; genealogical records and memorials of one branch of the Shannon family in America. Rochester, N. Y., [Genesee Press,] (privately printed,) 1905. c. 578 p. il. por. facsims.

Holt, H: Calmire: man and nature. 6th ed., rev. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1906. c. 7+705 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

In the issue of June 4, 1892, "Calmire: man and nature," appeared in the "Weekly Record." It was published anonymously and its author has been vainly sought for fourteen years. Now it is made public that this very serious novel of a young man's evolution from "Chaos" to "Kosmos" was the work of Henry Holt, of Henry Holt & Co., who let his young hero study social and religious conditions and share his thoughts with a healthy, lovable, common-sense girl that helped him towards clearer ideas and a stronger character.

Holt, H: Sturmsee: man and man. 3d ed., rev. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1906. c. 6+599 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

On June 3, 1905 "Sturmsee: man and man," by the author of "Calmire" was entered in the "Weekly Record." This novel voiced views on the labor question, the woman question, on art, literature and education and all questions now before the civilized world. Many of the characters of "Calmire" reappeared and now studied sociology as they had studied religion in the former novel. The book showed growth and breadth of view and dwelt especially on the saving power of individuality and innate gifts of mind and character.

Huntington, W: Reed, D.D. A good shepherd, and other sermons. N. Y., T: Whittaker, [1906.] c. 8+296 p. D. cl., *$1.25 net.

Twenty-three sermons by the Rector of Grace Church, New York.

Landis, H: Gardner. A compend of obstetrics, especially adapted to the use of medical students and physicians; rev. and ed. by W: H. Wells. 8th ed. Phil., P. Blakiston's Son & Co., 1906. c. 9+227 p. il. pls., 12°, (Quiz-compends.) cl., *$1 net; interleaved, *$1.25 net.

Lang, Andrew. Sir Walter Scott. N. Y., Scribner, 1906. [Mr.] c. 12+216 p. por. D. (Literary lives; ed. by W. Robertson Nicoll.) cl., $1 net.

The author states in the preface that he has here tried to compress as much as possible of the essence of Lockhart's "Life of Scott" into a small space with a few additions from other sources. As a fellow countryman of Scott, and one who has worked over much of the historical ground and over most of the manuscript material handled by Lockhart, Mr. Lang seems to be peculiarly fitted for the task.

Leonard, Rev. Delavan Levant. A hundred years of missions; the story of progress since Carey's beginning, by Rev. Delavan L. Leonard; introd. by Rev. Arthur T. Pierson, D.D. Rev. ed. N. Y., Funk & Wagnalls Co., 1905. c. 7+448 p. 12°, cl., $1.20 net.

Maclaren, Alexander, D.D. Expositions of Holy Scripture. In 30 v. 1st ser. In 6 v. v. 1, The book of Genesis; v. 2, The book of Isaiah, chapters I. to XLVIII.; v. 3, The book of Isaiah, chapters XLIX. to LXVI. and Jeremiah; v. 4-6, The gospel according to St. Matthew: chapters I. to VIII.; IX. to XVII.; XVIII. to XXVIII. N. Y., A. C. Armstrong & Son, 1906. 8+339; 8+338; 8+403; 8+422; 7+385; 7+379 p. O. cl., per v., *$1.25 net.

First series in six volumes of a complete commentary on the Bible, to be complete in thirty volumes published in annual series of six volumes. W. Robertson Nicoll as general editor of the work has gathered together the expository writings of this eminent English divine, pastor of Union Chapel, Manchester, and author of several theological works as well as volumes in the Expositor's Bible.

Madan, A. C. Senga handbook: a short introduction to the Senga dialect as spoken on the Lower Luangwa, northeastern Rhodesia. N. Y., Oxford University Press, (Amer. Branch,) 1905. 100 p. S. cl., 85 c.

The Sengas are a tribe of the Bantu, numbering perhaps 50,000 altogether, and living in part in the British territory on the Lower Luangwa river, South Africa. This volume was compiled from the evidence of an intelligent young Senga. First half of the volume treats of the different parts of speech; the second half contains an English-Senga vocabulary.

Marquis, T: Guthrie, ed. Giants of the Dominion from Cartier to Laurier, by Agnes Maule Machar, Louis Honoré Frechette, J. Castell Hopkins, D: Creighton, W: Buckingham, F. Blake Crofton, J. Lambert Payne, and others. Phil., [T: G. Marquis,] 1905. c. 578 p. il. pors. 8°, cl., $5.

Published in 1903 under the title: "Builders of Canada from Cartier to Laurier."

Meynell, Everard. Giovanni Bellini. N. Y., F: Warne & Co., [1906.] 20+64 p. il. O. (Newnes' art lib.) bds., $1.25.

Sixty-five reproductions of the pictures of Giovanni Bellini, an Italian fifteenth century painter, whose works are mostly to be found in Venice. A sketch of his life introduces the pictures.

Newcomb, Harry Turner. Municipal socialism: the conservative victory in Cleveland. Wash., D. C., Press of G. E. Howard, 1905. 50 p. 8°, pap., gratis.

Nodier, C: Jean Sbogar; ed. by D. Le Savory. N. Y., Oxford University Press, (Amer. Branch,) 1906. 19+140 p. S. (Oxford modern French ser.; ed. by Leon Delbos.) hf. cl., 50 c.

Editor, who is lecturer in the University of London, Goldsmith's College, has prefaced the text by a biographical sketch of Nodier. Numerous notes and a 3-page bibliography of works by and on Nodier.

Northwestern (The) reporter, v. 104. Permanent ed., July 18, 1905-Jan. 2, 1906. St. Paul, West Pub. Co., 1906. c. 16+1248 p. O. (National reporter system, state ser.) shp., $4.

Contains all the decisions of the supreme courts of Minn., Wis., Iowa, Mich., Neb., N. D., S. D. With table of northwestern cases in which rehearings have been denied. A table of statutes construed is given in the index.

Ohio. A digest of all decisions of the courts of the state from 1802 to 1905, and all cases decided in the courts of the U. S. affecting or relating to O. law, including the supreme, circuit and district federal judicatories. v. 3, (Corporations to emblements.) Norwalk, Laning Print. Co., 1905. c. 4 p. 4233-6392 columns, O. shp., $7.50.

Parry, D: Maclean. The scarlet empire; with il. by Hermann C. Wall. Indianapolis, Ind., Bobbs-Merrill Co., [1906. Mr.] 5+400 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

A young man of socialistic tendencies, thoroughly unfortunate in business, commits suicide. He awakens miles beneath the sea in a "lost Atlantis" which figures as "the scarlet empire." Here all is socialistic, controlled by the state. The people find themselves in a worse state of slavery than when controlled by millionaires and walking delegates upon the earth. Every item of food, conversation, marriage, education, etc., is regulated by strictest law and the bulk of the people are inspectors to guard the rights of the state. The hero goes through ghastly experiences and finally asserts his individuality and rescues himself and three others, one of whom furnishes the romance.

Pennsylvania. A digest of the statute law of the state from the year 1700 to 1903, (with the laws of 1905 in the appendix;) originally compiled in 1811 by J: Purdon. 13th ed., comp., annot. and rev. by Ardemus Stewart. v. 2, (E to L.) Phil., G: T. Bisel Co., 1905. c. 71+1281-2409 p. O. (Stewart's Purdon's digest.) shp., $6.

Railroad reports, (v. 39, Am. and Eng. railroad cases, new ser:) a coll. of all cases affecting railroads of every kind decided by the courts of last resort in the U. S.; ed. by T: J. Michie. v. 16. Charlottesville, Va., 1905. c. 8+936 p. O. shp., $5.

Raymond, Rob. Raikes. Melody in speech: a book of principle, precept, and practice in inflection and emphasis. 3d ed., including an additional treatise by the author. N. Y., Edgar S. Werner & Co., 1906. c. '80, '06. 2+188 p. por. D. cl., $1.25.

First edition was printed in 1880 for the author's private use in his work at the Boston School of Oratory. After Prof. Raymond's death, his son re-edited it, incorporating all changes indicated in Prof. Raymond's notes. In this third edition has been included his treatise on "The voice in elocution," now out of print, and also some personal reminiscences of his teaching. Deals specifically with vocal inflections and emphasis in elocution.

Rickert, Martha Edith. Folly; with frontispiece [in col.] by Sigismond De Ivanowski. N. Y., Baker & Taylor Co., [1906. Mr.] c. 8+368 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

"Folly" is the nickname of a selfish, highspirited girl who marries an English squire whose very virtues madden her, and who later falls in love with a poet, doomed to a slow death with cancer. After the death of her baby, she flees to Spain to nurse the poet, regardless of husband and home. There is no peace, however, for either of them and the anomalous position is brought to an end by the poet who sends for Folly's husband and then steals away to die alone. Folly's readjustment to life and renewal of happiness are brought about by the poet's last injunction, service for others. By the author of the Shetland story, "The reaper."

Sankey, Ira D: Sankey's story of the gospel hymns and of sacred songs and solos; with an introduction by Theodore L. Cuyler. Phil., Sunday School Times Co., 1906. c. 8+272 p. por. 12°, cl., *75 c. net.

Silberrad, Una Lucy. Curayl. N. Y., Doubleday, Page & Co., 1906. 3-312 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

Curayl was the name of a little English village in the neighborhood of London. Beatrice Curayl, from whose ancestors for centuries the place had held its name, was a proud woman, the last of the ancient line, who had been virtually sold through marriage by her spendthrift father to a rich husband. She lives an unhappy wedded life, but devotes herself to her tenants, nurses them in illness and lives up to the traditions of her ancestors. A young preacher by a sermon on "consequences" first awakens her to higher things, and the story relates her inner life and final happiness.

Smith, S: Rob. The story of Wyoming Valley; il. by the author. Kingston, Pa., S: R. Smith, 1906. c. 97 p. 12°, cl., $1.

Somerset, Lady H:, [formerly Lady Isabel Somers.] Under the arch. N. Y., Doubleday, Page & Co., 1906. [Mr.] c. 5+336 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

A novel of the London of to-day with scenes from the fashionable social set and from the lives of the very poorest. The time is during the South African war, two of the characters starting in the opening chapters for active service in the field. The one leaves behind a sentimental young wife, who believes herself in love with his friend and companion, who has given up a girl whose love he has won, because he thinks he is too poor to marry. The men are wounded, but come back, the unmarried one bringing a rich American wife. The girl he had deserted finds solace in work among the city's "submerged tenth."

Theocritus, [Gr., 270 B.C.], Bion [Gr., 280 B.C.] and Moschus [Gr., 200 B.C.]. Bucolici Graeci: recensuit et emendavit, Udalricus de Wilamowitz-Moellendorff. N. Y., Oxford University Press, (Amer. Branch,) [1906.] 15+170 p. D. (Scriptorum classicorum bibliotheca Oxoniensis.) cl., 75 c.

Pastoral songs by Theocritus, Bion and Moschus; text, notes, etc., in Greek.

Thorington, Ja. The ophthalmoscope and how to use it; with colored illustrations, descriptions, and treatment of the principal diseases of the fundus; 73 il., 12 pls. Phil., P. Blakiston's Son & Co., 1906. c. 9+298 p. 8°, cl., $2.50.

Van Norden, C:, D.D. Jesus: an unfinished portrait. N. Y., Funk & Wagnalls Co., 1906. [F.] 3+295 p. D. cl., $1 net.

The summing-up of thirty-five years of study and reflection on the career of Jesus, and an endeavor, from a view-point of scientific accuracy and yet in deep religious reverence and broad charity, to present the real man, his actual teachings and the bearing of his life upon present religious problems. By the author of "The uttermost rim and beyond" "and "The psychic factor." Divided into 5 parts. 1, The author's point of view. 2, How Jesus discovered his mission. 3, What Jesus taught. 4, The Master's method and personality. 5, Reflections.

Vincent, J: Martin. Municipal problems in mediæval Switzerland. Balt., Md., Johns Hopkins Press, 1905. c. 44 p. O. (Johns Hopkins University studies in historical and political science.) pap., 50 c.

Dissertation on the municipal problems in certain towns of Switzerland which had won independence and self-government. The questions of building and maintaining the city wall, of sanitation, duties of magistrates, coinage agreements, election of town councils, water supply, the relation of trade guilds to city government, etc., are investigated with the help of contemporaneous records.

Williams, Jesse Lynch. The day dreamer: being the full narrative of "The stolen story." N. Y., Scribner, 1906. [Mr.] c. 5+326 p. D. cl., †$1.25.

Mr. Williams several years ago wrote a short story under the title "The stolen story," which attracted wide attention. He afterwards used the incidents in a play of the same name, which included other dramatic scenes. The present story is a novel made from the play. It has been published in magazine form as "News and the man." The story is the exciting experience of a newspaper man, who is a genius in his way, who goes after a "story" for his paper. His assignment takes him to the home of the girl he loves. There are misunderstandings and mysteries and a political intrigue, a happy ending being brought about in a most dramatic way.

Xenophon. Xenophontis opera omnia; recognovit brevique adnotatione critica instruxit E. C. Marchant. Tomus 1, Historia Graeca [The Hellenica]; text by E. C. Marchant, notes by G. E. Underhill. N. Y., Oxford University Press, (Amer. Branch,) 1906. various paging, O. cl., $2.50.

Xenophon's Historia Græca or Hellenica covers the years 411 to 362 B.C., beginning with the twenty-first year of the Peloponnesian war and ending with the battle of Mantinea. Greek text fills almost half this volume, followed by a commentary, historical notes, Greek index, general index and index of authors, by G. E. Underhill, senior tutor of Magdalen College, Oxford.

INDEX TO SPRING ANNOUNCEMENTS.

In this department the announcements of books to be published during the Spring season are indexed under author and title, with as much information as publishers were ready to give in advance of publication. Books which appeared before February 1 in our "Weekly Record of New Publications" are not included.

Where binding is not stated the books are generally understood to be in cloth binding; "bds." particularly in the department of Juvenile fiction, generally means illuminated or fancy board covers.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MARCH 17, 1906.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE SPRING OUTLOOK.

FOLLOWING an unusually active and prosperous fall and holiday season, the retail booktrade thus far this year has had no reason to complain either of lack of supply from the publishers or of lack of interest shown by the public in the current literary output. Notwithstanding the printers' strike since the first of the year and its inevitable disturbance of the publishing machinery, 427 publishers have during that period already put upon the market close upon a thousand books—a remarkable showing, all things considered. The demand for books by the public, judging by the numbers who frequent the bookstores, also is encouraging. The Valentine trade was unusually active, and the Easter trade promises to be better than ever before.

As for the spring and summer months, the list of books already announced by the publishing trade promises unabated activity for the retailer. In volume, at least, the announcements equal those of any previous spring season, and for quality they can also hold their own with former spring seasons. In fact no spring season has ever opened more cheerfully.

Population increases phenomenally, and day by day the people realize more that the only way to the top, where alone there is room, must take its way through knowledge based on the study of books. This year's output shows a great number of new technical works on all subjects and of the good standard books brought up to the last experience and invention by revision and enlargement. Repentance and reform in business and politics are in the air, and many wise students of their fellowmen at work and play have put into print much wise thought on the subjects of railroads, trusts, insurance, new election methods, municipal ownership, great fortunes, extravagant pleasures, etc., all of which, under many titles, will find itself a way to the shelves of booksellers and from thence to more permanent quarters in libraries and the homes of the people. Some of the new reading matter in these lines is good enough to find the most permanent of all resting places in the minds and characters and practical life of the people.

Year by year the love of nature and its consequent literature grows, and among the announcements are many books on country life, gardens, farms and their allied industries; and many books, that mechanically are things of beauty, on almost every kind of separate flower, fruit and plant and the insects that disport themselves among them.

Biography and history hold promise of fine works, and tend especially towards men and actions of American interest.

Fiction, as ever, outranks all departments in number, and the American novel holds its own in quantity and quality.

Authors and publishers have provided for every taste. It is now the booksellers' task to study their special environments and buy carefully, but keep in sight the fact that the bookbuying public has made money and can be tempted by well-selected stock presented with a cheerful confidence.

COPYRIGHT TREATY WITH JAPAN.

THE following is the text of the copyright convention between the United States and Japan, ratified on February 28, and just made public:

The President of the United States of America and his Majesty the Emperor of Japan being equally desirous to extend to their subjects and citizens the benefit of legal protection in both countries in regard to copyright, have, to this end, decided to conclude a Convention, and have appointed as their respective Plenipotentiaries:

The President of the United States of America, Lloyd C. Griscom, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to Japan; and

His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, General Count Taro Katsura, Junii, First Class of the Imperial Order of the Rising Sun, Third Class of the Imperial Order of the Golden

Kite, His Imperial Majesty's Minister of State for Foreign Affairs;

Who, having reciprocally communicated their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE I.

The subjects or citizens of each of the two High Contracting Parties shall enjoy in the dominions of the other, the protection of copyright for their works of literature and art as well as photographs, against illegal reproduction, on the same basis on which protection is granted to the subjects or citizens of the other, subject however to the provisions of Article II of the present Convention.

ARTICLE II.

The subjects or citizens of each of the two High Contracting Parties may without authorization translate books, pamphlets or any other writings, dramatic works, and musical compositions, published in the dominions of the other by the subjects or citizens of the latter, and print and publish such translations.

ARTICLE III.

The present Convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications thereof shall be exchanged at Tokio as soon as possible. It shall come into operation from the date of the exchange of ratifications, and shall be applicable to such works only as shall be published after it shall have come into operation. Either of the Contracting Parties shall have the right, at any time, to give notice to the other of its intention to terminate the present Convention, and at the expiration of three months after such notice is given this Convention shall wholly cease and determine.

In witness whereof the above mentioned Plenipotentiaries have signed the present Convention and have affixed thereto their seals.

Done in duplicate at Tokio, in the English and Japanese languages, this 10th day of November, of year one thousand nine hundred and five, corresponding to the 10th day of the 11th month of the 38th year of Meiji.

A PUBLISHER HIS CLIENT'S JUROR.

IT appears that when Henry Holt, the senior of the firm of Henry Holt & Co., as a member of the New York grand jury passed upon the validity of the charges of alleged larceny in the first degree and alleged forgery in the third degree against George Dyre Eldridge, vice-president of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company, he did not recall the fact that his firm was the publisher of Eldridge's novel, "The Milbank Case." When Mr. Holt's attention was called to the matter he at once communicated the fact to District Attorney Jerome.

Mr. Jerome communicated with Mr. Eldridge's lawyer, who said that he did not think the fact that Mr. Holt had published one of his client's books would prejudice him, and he was then informed by the district attorney that he was competent to act.

"The Milbank Case" was submitted to Henry Holt & Co. in the fall of 1904. It was sent back to Eldridge for revision, and published in May, 1905. It is a detective story dealing with a murder, and winds up with the suicide of the guilty man. A scandal in high life has a place in the tale, which is interestingly told.

HARPER & BROTHERS INCREASE THEIR CAPITAL.

HARPER & BROTHERS on March 13 filed with the Secretary of State, at Albany, N. Y., a certificate of increase of capital from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. The certificate is signed by A. E. Orr, G. B. M. Harvey, J. Henry Harper and others. Colonel Harvey, the president of Harper & Brothers, is reported by the New York Times to have said that the increase was "purely a routine matter, made for the purpose of substituting income bonds for stock."

THE OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS TEAM ARE CHAMPION BOWLERS.

THE final games in the publishers' bowling tournament were called on the evening of March 9 at the Fair Bowling Alleys, 122 East Fourteenth Street, New York. The Oxford University Press team won first place, scoring eight of the twelve games rolled. The Ginn & Co. team also won eight of the twelve, but was defeated by the Oxford University Press team in the roll-off to decide the championship. The Doubleday, Page & Co. team was third on the list with a score of seven, and the American Book Company team scored six. Unfortunately the G. P. Putnam's Sons team was obliged to forfeit the majority of the games, owing to the continued absence of several members of their team.

The tournaments were a source of great pleasure to all who took part as well as to the visitors, and offered splendid opportunities for close acquaintanceship. It is expected that now that a beginning has been made the next season will call out at least a dozen teams representing the various publishing and bookselling firms in New York City.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION.

AT a meeting of the Board of Directors of the American Publishers' Association the following officers were re-elected: Frank H. Scott, president; Charles Scribner, first vice-president; Frank H. Dodd, second vice-president; Daniel Appleton, treasurer, and Frederick A. Stokes, secretary. M. Murray Brown, who was recently elected a member of the Board of Directors, having declared himself for several reasons unable to serve, Mr. Gregory, of the firm of Lothrop, Lee & Shepard, was elected in his place.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE—ELEVENTH ANNUAL MEETING.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE held its eleventh annual meeting at the Aldine Association on the evening of March 14. There were present about forty, a smaller number than usual. After the coffee had been served the president, F. D. Lacy, called upon Francis Gilman, secretary, for the report of the Board of Managers, which is as follows:

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

To the Members of the Booksellers' League.

GENTLEMEN: Your President and the Board of Managers take pleasure in presenting their eleventh annual report as follows:

To-day finds the Booksellers' League in an excellent condition as regards membership and finances. The gain during the year has been sixty-one members, the total membership at this time being 241, as against 180 in the previous year, when only forty-six new members were enrolled. Some of the success in adding new members is no doubt due to the fact that the League two years ago voted to award one of its gold buttons to each member who might secure five new candidates. Of the number who have worked most assiduously in gaining new members Charles A. Burkhardt is in the lead.

The Board of Managers has held eight monthly meetings, which were unusually well attended.

Seven dinners have been given during the year, and entertainment of a high character has been provided by Professor Thomas Gafney Taafe, Captain Paul B. Malone, Arthur Henry, J. Wallace Mackey, Charles Battell Loomis, Henry Mayer, Joe C. Lincoln, the Rev. Robert E. Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Dunham, Edmund Vance Cooke, Eugene P. Lyle, George Cary Eggleston, Upton Sinclair, the Rev. Madison C. Peters, J. W. Sargent, Charles H. Caffin, the Rev. Dr. W. A. P. Martin, R. F. Stevens and others.

There were two special nights of particular interest. The one was the May dinner, in which we united with the American Booksellers' Association. This meeting was attended by one of the largest number of booksellers and stationers that ever met in New York City on a similar occasion, and proved a very enjoyable affair. The other was the Ladies' Night in January, 1906, which partook somewhat of the nature of a celebration of the bi-centenary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin. This was also well attended and much enjoyed by all who were present.

The year was also marked by the publication of a history of the League, entitled "The Booksellers' League: a history of its formation, and ten years of its work," written and furnished to the League without cost by A. Growoll, who for his devotion to the League was honored with a silver loving cup and a memorial volume handsomely bound. Honorary membership was conferred on Mrs. A. H. Leypoldt for assistance rendered in preparing the index for the History of the League and for the active interest she has shown in the work of the League from the beginning.

It is pleasant to note that while the League enjoys itself it is also not forgetful of those of its members who, for one reason or another, are no longer able to be with it. An instance of this kind is the contribution of $200, taken up by subscription, to the fund raised by the booktrade to provide special medical treatment for Dwight Stratton, an old member and for some time one of the Board of Managers. Another instance was the conferring of honorary membership on our former president, secretary, treasurer and excellent friend, W. H. Parker, who for a time has given up the book business to devote himself to agricultural pursuits.

The Employment Bureau, under the efficient management of its faithful director, C. E. Bonnell, has continued its useful work in securing positions for the unemployed, as may be seen from the following report:

REPORT OF THE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

|---|---|
| Applications from employers for clerks and others | 57 |
| Applications for positions | 56 |

From this report, compared with the report of last year, it appears that publishing houses, and employers generally, are using the Employment Bureau of the League more and more as a means of securing help.

The income from fees amounted to $5. The income from this source is meagre, partly because the larger number of applicants have small means and partly because others seem to forget their obligations to the Bureau after they have secured positions.

C. E. BONNELL.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER.

The treasurer takes pleasure in reporting that, notwithstanding the fact that a larger number of members have attended the dinners given during the past year than in the previous years, the League has an ample balance on hand, as the following figures will show:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Cash on hand April 1, 1905 | $303.68 | |
| Received from dues | 787.50 | |
| Received from Dinner Tickets | 262.00 | |

| Received from Employment Bureau | 5.00 | |
| Received from Sales of "History of the League" | 11.04 | |
| Miscellaneous | 1.40 | $1,373.12 |
| Expenses: | | |
| Paid for Dinners | 837.40 | |

} Finance Committee.

It seems hardly necessary to point out the advantages that are derived and that may be derived from membership in the Booksellers' League. What is desired is that every one now aware of what the Booksellers' League stands for may acquaint others with the facts, and gain new members, so that the League may grow larger and stronger and be able in time to realize some of the larger purposes for which the League was called into existence.

FRANCIS GILMAN, Secretary.

* Contributed from the treasury to make up a sum of two hundred dollars subscribed by members of the League.

The report was heartily applauded and unanimously adopted.

The election of president for the ensuing year resulted in the unanimous choice of W. G. Preston, of Dodd, Mead & Co. The following were elected members of the Board of Managers: E. Byrne Hackett, John A. Holden, E. G. Lawrence, J. B. Pratt, Samuel Reiss and J. Worth.

At the conclusion of the business session Dr. John G. Coyle reviewed the life-history of Matthew Lyon, the American soldier, printer and journalist, and politician whose vote in the House of Representatives decided the election of Thomas Jefferson. Lyon's career, as eloquently outlined by Dr. Coyle, was indeed remarkable. Born in Wexford, Ireland, in 1746, he emigrated to America in 1759, where he was sold in New York to a Connecticut farmer to pay his passage over. He succeeded in redeeming himself after three years, and then removed to Vermont and became a lieutenant in a company of "Green Mountain Boys." Lyon founded the town of Fairhaven, Vt., where he built saw mills and grist mills, a paper mill and a forge, and established and edited a paper called The Scourge of Aristocracy and Repository of Important Political Truth, making the type and paper himself. For ten years he was a member of the Vermont legislature, and from 1797 to 1801 he represented the Anti-Federalists of Vermont in Congress. In 1801 he removed to Kentucky, where he established the first printing office in the State and also engaged in shipbuilding. He again sat in Congress, from 1803 to 1811, and at the time of his death, in 1822, was United States factor among the Cherokees in Arkansas and had been elected delegate from that Territory.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Dr. John Jacob Anderson, the author of Anderson's school histories and other educational works, died on March 14 at his home, 343 Adelphi Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. He was born in New York City on September 30, 1821, and was teacher for thirty years, including twenty years as principal of one of the largest grammar schools in New York. In addition to his school histories of the United States, England and France, he was the author of "The Manual of General History," "The Historical Reader" and "The United States Reader."

William Ellis, for forty years connected with the Milwaukee booktrade, died at Baraboo, Wis., on February 24. Mr. Ellis was born in Brittport, Devonshire County, England, September 18, 1822. He was married there, and for a number of years conducted a bookstore in his native town. He came to the United States in March, 1849, and soon after opened a bookstore in Milwaukee, on East Water Street, being one of the first in the city to deal in printed matter. Afterwards he located at 130-132 Wisconsin Street, where he had a store for many years. After being in Milwaukee for about forty years he decided to retire and went to Baraboo, but it was not long before he opened a bookstall, just to keep in touch with the ever-increasing volume of literature.

Susan Brownell Anthony, who devoted her life to the cause of women, and, as an advocate of equal suffrage and woman's rights gained a world-wide reputation, died at Rochester, N. Y., on March 13. Miss Anthony was born in South Adams, Mass., February 15, 1820. Her father, a Quaker, was a cotton manufacturer, with somewhat liberal ideas. She was educated at the Friends' boarding school in Philadelphia, and after her graduation, at the age of fifteen, became a school teacher. Refusing to receive less pay for work which she claimed she did as well as a man who received higher pay she lost her position, and from that time forward began her struggle to secure for women equal rights with men. Through the press and on the lecture platform she was unceasingly active almost up to the time of her death making propaganda for freedom and suffrage. She founded and edited The Revolution, an exclusively woman's rights paper, and frequently contributed to the leading magazines and newspapers in this country and in England. With Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Mrs. Mathilda Joslyn Gage and Mrs. Ida Husted Harper she wrote "The History of Woman Suffrage" in four volumes.

BUSINESS NOTES.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

The Century Company will publish on the 21st inst. Jennette Lee's new book, "Uncle William." It is for readers who like a simple, homely tale, and Uncle William is said to combine quaint humor and pathos to a most appealing degree. The author is Professor of English Language and Literature at Smith College, and is best known to the general reading public through her many short stories.

McClure, Phillips & Co. will publish this spring a new book by G. Lowes Dickinson, author of "Letters from a Chinese Official," etc., to be entitled "The Meaning of Good," a record of an imaginary conversation in which a group of typical young men of our time attempt to establish a definition of "goodness;" also, "The Life of a Star," reminiscent stories by Clara Morris, the well-known actress.

D. Appleton & Co. have just brought out John Morgan Richards's volume of reminiscences, "With John Bull and Jonathan;" "Marcelle the Mad," a story by Seth Cook Comstock; also, "The Triumphs of Eugene Valmont," a new story by Robert Barr. They will publish shortly "The False Gods," a journalistic story by George Horace Lorimer, author of "Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son."

Forbes & Co., Chicago, will publish in April "Thrills of a Bell Boy," by S. E. Kiser, with characteristic sketches by J. T. McCutcheon, who pictures the "bell boy" in a dozen poses. "Love Sonnets of an Office Boy," which these two humorists brought out a few years ago, has gone through several large editions. In response to the continued demand Forbes & Co. will bring out "Buell Hampton," by Willis George Emerson, in a popular edition.

Funk & Wagnalls Company have just ready a new book by the Rev. Dr. Charles Van Norden, entitled "Jesus: an Unfinished Portrait." The work is said to be a summing up of thirty-five years of study and reflection on the career of Jesus, and an endeavor, from a viewpoint of scientific accuracy and yet in deep religious reverence and broad charity, to present the real man, his actual teachings and the bearing of his life upon the present religious problems.

Frederick Warne & Co. will shortly commence the publication of a companion series to the popular Newnes' Art Library, to comprise the art galleries of Europe. Various volumes will treat of "The National Gallery" (London), "The Early British School of Painters," "The Later British School of Painters," the Flemish, Dutch, early and late Italian schools, the Spanish, German and French schools, each with adequate illustrations and descriptive matter, by Robert De la Sizeranne, Frederick Wedmore, Gustave Geffroy, Sir Charles Holroyd and others.

Thomas B. Mosher, Portland, Me., will issue next month in the Ideal Series of Little Masterpieces "The Sweet Miracle," by Eça de Queiroz; "Poems in Prose," by Oscar Wilde; and "Hand and Soul," by Dante Gabriel Rossetti. This new series is one of the most attractive of the publisher's varied attempts in producing beautiful editions at merely nominal price. Later Mr. Mosher will bring out a new Vest Pocket edition of "Nature Thoughts Selected from the Prose Writings of Walt Whitman," by Anne Montgomerie Traubel, a little book worthy to rank with Jefferies and Thoreau as a mine of nature lore of unsuspected richness.

Harper & Brothers have just published "The Rise of American Nationality," by Kendric Charles Babcock, president of the University of Arizona, as volume 13 in The American Nation series. The War of 1812 is the topic of this volume, and the author traces the causes of that struggle, its main events, including a characterization of the armies, navies and officers contending against each other, and its effect upon the nation; and shows how out of the weakness of the war period came a new national spirit that not only caused European nations to adopt a different point of view towards the great American republic, but which also resulted in a better status of parties at home, and the strengthening of the national spirit.

Hurst & Co. have greatly strengthened their list of paper-covered books by the addition of thirty-five of the copyright novels by Archibald Clavering Gunter, which they have purchased from the Home Publishing Company. They have also purchased many of the better books formerly published by the Federal Book Company, which has gone out of business, and will bring them out in new styles in their various libraries. In their Hawthorne Library they now show 188 titles, running as low as 4½ cents for lots of 1000 copies. In their Universal Library they show one of the largest lines of five-cent books now in the market. They are also making preparations to make their line of cloth and leather bound books better and more attractive than ever.

Doubleday, Page & Co. will publish on the 24th inst. "The International Cook Book," by Alex. Filippini; "Man, the Social Creator," by Henry Demarest Lloyd; "A Few Neighbors," by Henry A. Shute; "Recollections of Thirteen Presidents," by John S. Wise; also, the eighth part of the "Dog Book," all of which have already been fully described by us. They are bringing out a uniform edition of Ellen Glasgow's important novels, including her latest, "The Wheel of Life," "The Voice of the People," "The Battleground," and "The Deliverance." They have in preparation a new story by H. B. Marriott Watson, entitled "The Privateer." It reverses the usual condition, in that it deals with the adventures of two fortune-hunting Americans who abduct a British heiress.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co. have brought out this week the following books: "The Log of a Sea Angler," containing exciting adventure by the well-known sportsman, Charles F. Holder; "The Clammer," a delicate romance, by William J. Hopkins; a volume on "The College Man and the College Woman," by President William DeWitt Hyde, of Bowdoin College; studies of nineteen "American Literary Masters," by Leon H. Vincent; new editions of "Calmire" and "Sturmsee," with the name of Henry Holt on the title-page; volume 2 of "The Proceedings of the International Congress of Arts and Science;" and the 1906 edition of the "Satchel Guide," by Dr. W. J. Rolfe. "The Evasion," Miss Eugenia Brooks Frothingham's novel, to be published on March 31, is to have a poster portrait by the well-known artist, Joseph Lindon Smith. Mr. Smith has just been exhibiting in Boston a collection of paintings recently done in Egypt.

Charles Scribner's Sons will publish shortly W. B. Freer's book, "Experiences of an American Teacher in the Philippines," which, besides describing the islands, will discuss the work of the American teachers there. The volume will be illustrated with interesting photographs taken by the author. They have in preparation a new book on Joseph Jefferson by Francis Wilson, the well-known actor, a portion of which has appeared in Scribner's Magazine; an account of the "Early Life of Leo Tolstoy," compiled by his former secretary and present literary representative, M. P. Birukoff, who has been aided in the work by Tolstoy himself; also, the journal of Richard Smith, of Burlington, N. J., entitled "A Tour of Four Great Rivers: the Hudson, Mohawk, Susquehanna and Delaware, in 1769," edited by Francis W. Halsey, who has also written for the volume a brief history of "Pioneer Settlement," and an account of Smith's life.

Dodd, Mead & Co. will publish on the 28th inst. "Cowardice Court," a story full of love and adventure, by George Barr McCutcheon, author of "Graustark," etc., with illustrations in color, by Harrison Fisher and decorations by T. B. Hapgood; "My Sword for Lafayette," by Max Pemberton, a dramatic and thrilling story of the adventures of a friend and companion of the Marquis de Lafayette, with illustrations; "The Scholar's Daughter," by Beatrice Harraden, a charming love story, one of the principal characters in which is an old scholar who is ambitious to write a dictionary; "The Girl with the Blue Sailor," a vacation love story, by Burton Egbert Stevenson, author of "The Holladay Case," etc.; also, a timely book by H. A. Guerber, author of "Legends of Switzerland," etc., on "How to Prepare for Europe," full of information on a variety of subjects which may interest the European traveller, explained with illustrations, maps and tables.

John Lane Company have in preparation a novel entitled "The Mountain Lovers," which William Sharp wrote under the celebrated pen name Fiona McLeod; the life of Charles Stewart Parnell, which will be issued under the title "A Patriot's Mistake," a volume of reminiscences, which includes many members of the Parnell family, written by a daughter of the house, Emily Monroe Dickinson, who says in her preface: "My object in writing these pages was to trace some of the principal events which would gratify the natural desire of the reading public to know something, from a personal source, of a family that had become so famous, some of whom were so tragically unfortunate in the issues of their lives; also to lift to some extent the veil of proud reserve that wrapt a spirit as brave and impenetrable as ever faced the fierce struggles, the stress, and shipwreck of political life." The issue of Anthony Trollope's novels, which John Lane Company has been bringing out in pocket form on thin paper, will presently be enlarged by the appearance of "Orley Farm." This will be published in two volumes. Another announcement of importance is "Pilgrimages to Old [English] Homes," by Fletcher Moss, who describes such famous places as Wells, Glastonbury, Walford Hall, Chartley and others, all of which are fully illustrated.

Little, Brown & Co. have just ready "The Wolf at Susan's Door and Mrs. Lathrop's Love Affair," by Anne Warner, in which Miss Clegg is said to be even more inimitable and irresistible than in the first series of stories; also, "The Game of Bridge," by Fisher Ames, a recognized authority on his subject, presenting it in a systematic and natural order, and in such a way as to interest and instruct the reader in the principles, and to familiarize him with the best practice of the game. They will publish on the 24th inst. a volume entitled "Thunder and Lightning," by Camille Flammarion, the celebrated French astronomer, which will contain the data he has been collecting regarding the havoc wrought by lightning. They will publish in April a new novel by Arthur Stringer, entitled "The Wire Tappers." The hero of the story, an electrical inventor, and the heroine, a beautiful English girl, by sheer force of circumstances become associated with a man who attempts by wire tapping to beat the pool room. The events which follow are vividly unfolded by Mr. Stringer, who is one of the most careful craftsmen among American authors. They have acquired the American publishing rights of "The Fight for Canada," by Major William Wood, and are just issuing a definitive edition of this important historical work at a low price. Major Wood views the entire campaign in the aspect of a combined naval and military operation in which sea power is now made to assume its proper relation to the British conquests. He avails himself of important authentic material that has been discovered since Parkman's day. The volume contains portraits, colored maps, and a very full bibliography.

The Biography of Our Baby

Verses by Edmund Vance Cooke and Illustrations by Bessie Collins Pease

Of all the books made for keeping a record of the life of a baby this is certainly the most beautiful. One readily falls in love with the beautiful baby pictures, so irresistible in their sweetness, with which Miss Pease has decorated the pages.

Edmund Vance Cooke's fascinating verses add much to the interest of the volume:

"The wee, wet kiss against my lips,
The warm head in its shoulder nest.
The little legs across my chest,
The froward little finger tips;
. . . . . .
Choose as you will! My choice is best;
The little life across my breast."

If you know any one who has a child you will bring much happiness to them by sending a copy of this book.

7½ x 10, Cloth, $1.50
Silk, 3.00
Ooze Leather, 4.00

Queer Things About Japan

Douglas Sladen

A most thorough account of Japanese life and customs as seen by this well-known writer. Very fully illustrated with pictures by prominent Japanese artists.

5½ x 8, Cloth, $2.50 net

More Queer Things About Japan

Douglas Sladen

In "More Queer Things About Japan" there are sixteen chapters by Miss Lorimer on "Japan from a Woman's Point of View," and two remarkable contributions from the Japanese—a life of Napoleon, written and illustrated by the Japanese about 1840, and "The Yoshiwara from Within," an account of the Public Harems of Japan. The famous letters of Will Adams, written from Japan 1611-1617, are also included.

5½ x 8, Cloth, $2.50 net

Reflections of a Bachelor

"Being good is an awful lonesome job," so says the writer of this book of clever saying. If you wish to give some friend an unusual book just get a copy of this one; it is full of bright and witty paragraphs. New edition printed in two colors. Old Maid's edition, showing the end of the bachelor—a skeleton in a box.

4½ x 5, Boards, 50 cents
Old Maid's Edition Boxed, $1.00

Games for Everybody

May C. Hofmann

An ideal book for the entertainer; full of helpful suggestions and games for children and adults. About fifty pages are given up to the most popular games for children. The remainder of the volume is devoted to games for adults.

5 x 7½, Cloth, 50 cents

Crystal Gazing

Northcote W. Thomas

This volume covers the history and practice of crystal gazing with a discussion of the evidence for telepathic scrying. Professor Andrew Lang, in a most interesting introduction, gives his experiences. Every thoughtful man and woman should read this book.

5 x 7½, Cloth, $1.25.

Thought Transference

Northcote W. Thomas

Since the foundation of the Society for Physical Research a great mass of material has been published on such subjects as Thought-Transference, Crystal Gazing, Ghosts, Mediumship, Physical Phenomena and other so-called "occult" manifestations. There have—notwithstanding the great public interest in these subjects—been but few attempts to sum up the evidence and make it available for the ordinary citizen who cannot find time to read the whole of the thirty volumes published by the Society. This new volume by Professor Thomas is of intense interest, dealing sympathetically with the evidence, and shows what any man without bias in either direction may regard as proved. 5 x 7½, Cloth, $1.25.

For Each Day—A Prayer

The Christian Advocate says, "Put this book on your list; it refreshes like a sun-bathed pine tree." The Cambridge Tribune says, "It will prove a most welcome volume to the many who want, not to say rely upon, from day to day, something stimulating and refreshing from the world's great storehouse of thought and aspiration." The Epworth Herald says, "It is a book of permanent value. We heartily commend the book for its value in religious training."

Compiled by Elizabeth Hamill Davis, with selections by Dr. Henry van Dyke, Dr. J. R. Miller and many other equally prominent persons.

5½ x 7½, Cloth, $1.25.
Ooze Leather, 2.00
Paste Grain, 2.00

"GLADYS LAWRENCE"

THE SOCIETY NOVEL OF THE SEASON

THE EVASION

By EUGENIA BROOKS FROTHINGHAM

Author of "The Turn of the Road"

THE popularity of Miss Frothingham's new book, "The Evasion," seems secure. It concerns the exclusive circles of American society with a plot which centers about a young girl whose beauty and attraction are compelling. Its action has to do with the prevailing fads and luxuries which are so dear to the so-called smart set of the country, and so eagerly read by outsiders. "The Evasion," however, is unique in its characterization. The underlying currents of religious and socialistic feeling, and the uncertainty as to which way these currents may turn add greatly to the interest of this novel of real flesh and blood. There is a warmth and straightforward tone to Miss Frothingham's work. The story is logical and interesting, page by page, and the events which it chronicles are thrilling and exciting.

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. and A. M. WILLIAMSON

Authors of "My Friend the Chauffeur."

An Anglo-American romance in the form of a diary of a bright, vivacious English girl who comes to America under the chaperonage of a leader of the "400" in New York and Newport. She has her eyes open, and what she saw of the inside workings of society you will concede was well worth recording. Betty had several love stories; at least, several men thought they were stories, and her numerous experiences make a most charming and interesting story.

Cloth, 12mo. Eight illustrations in color. $1.50.

In Our Town

By WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE

Author of "The Court of Boyville," "The Real Issue," etc.

"Our Town" is located where the Westerners call it East and the Easterners call it West. Where is that? "What's the matter with Kansas," to quote one of Mr. White's most famous phrases.

"Our Town" is a most amusing and individual little, one street, one store, one bank village, as you see it in your tour personally conducted by the editor of the local paper, who introduces you to the show characters and whispers in your ear their humorous or pathetic life stories. Mr. White gives you a capital good time, for he has a fine faculty for telling a simple life story and a keen sense of what stores good-natured laughter.

Cloth. Sixteen illustrations. $1.50.

The Pets and Other Critters

By HENRY WALLACE PHILLIPS

Author of "Red Saunders."

Here again we meet the breezy, fun provoking Red Saunders, the same as of yore but with a brand new set of vigorous, humorous tales of the pets and other critters whom Red and his crowd were wont to adopt from time to time. Let a bobcat, an eagle, a snake, and an inquisitive pup come together, as in one of these tales, and something can be expected to "bust loose." Pigs, goats, bears, deers, horses, etc., figure amusingly in these highly entertaining narratives. Every one of them will afford you many a hearty laugh and prove a sure banisher of the "blues."

Cloth. Thirty illustrations. $1.25.

The Four Million

By O. HENRY

Author of "Cabbages and Kings."

Who are the four million? The inhabitants of Manhattan Isle, of course. O. Henry has been loafing amongst them for a good period of time now with his "weathered eye peeled" for the humorous incident or character. Here is the harvest of his loafing and the volume shows the delightful humorist in his happiest mood.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.00.

"Pigs is Pigs"

By ELLIS PARKER BUTLER

A perfect gem of a humorous tale in which a pair of guinea pigs make trouble for a suburban gentleman, a stubborn Irish station master, and a slow moving railway corporation. It affords one continuous laugh from beginning to end. This little book will prove a happy companion.

Cloth, 12mo. Five illustrations. 50 cents.

More Stories of Married Life

By MARY STEWART CUTTING

Author of "Little Stories of Married Life," and "Little Stories of Courtship."

To those who are familiar with the delicious comedies and gentle tragedies of commuter life in Mrs. Cutting's previous volumes, surely no recommendation could be more effective than the assurance that this volume is out of the same material and is of the same quality as its predecessors.

Cloth, 12mo. Frontispiece in color. $1.25.

Vrouw Grobelaar And Her Leading Cases

By PERCEVAL GIBBON

"The Kipling of the Kraals"

Rarely has a book appeared so much out of the rut of commonplace literature, so full of the definite genius for dramatic story-telling as this volume of powerful, absorbing tales of South African life. By all means get this book if you want something really worth while.

Cloth, 12mo. $1.25.

McCLURE SPRING ANNOUNCEMENTS

Foster's Complete Bridge — R. F. FOSTER

The most complete and concise handbook on Bridge ever published. Beginner and expert alike will find this book valuable and interesting. The points of the game are illustrated by sample hands in color. A complete set of rules and a history of the game add much to the value of the book.

Gilt edges. Cloth. Net, $1.50; postpaid, $1.60. Morocco. Net, $3.00; postpaid, $3.10.

The Cost of Competition — SIDNEY A. REEVE

A brilliant arraignment of our economic system with insistence on the social and moral evils of competition. The Brooklyn Eagle says: "'The Cost of Competition' is well written, important, prophetic, . . . is admirable in its diagnosis and stimulating in its suggestiveness."

Cloth. One volume. Net, $2.00; postpaid, $2.14.

Enemies of the Republic — LINCOLN STEFFENS

By the same author, "The Shame of the Cities."

The articles on corruption in state politics which Mr. Steffens has been contributing to McClure's Magazine during the past year are gathered into this volume. These papers have been recognized as the most sane and most helpful among the numberless articles on misgovernment that magazines have been publishing of late.

Cloth, 12mo. Net, $1.20; postpaid, $1.32.

The Life of a Star — CLARA MORRIS

By the same author, "Life on the Stage."

A book of autobiographical sketches, which are at the same time dramatic and human little stories. It gives a delightful view of life on the American stage and of the people that made it during the latter part of the nineteenth century.

Cloth, 12mo. Frontispiece. Net, $1.50; postpaid, $1.63.

The Meaning of Good — G. LOWES DICKINSON

By the same author, "A Modern Symposium," "Letters from a Chinese Official," "The Greek View of Life."

A volume in the form of a delightful informal conversation in which a group of young men attempt to establish what is essential and ideal good and to formulate a working definition of the word goodness. The book is characterized by Mr. Dickinson's notable ability to see every question with wonderful clearness.

Cloth. Net, $1.20; postpaid, $1.30.

The Far Country — FLORENCE WILKINSON

By the same author, "Two Plays of Israel," "Kings and Queens."

A volume that is noteworthy in an age producing much in rhyme, but little true poetry. It stamps Miss Wilkinson as a serious poet with a wide sweep of emotion, an unusual breadth of knowledge, and a firm control over the technique of her art.

Cloth. Net, $1.00; postpaid, $1.10.

Wayside Talks — CHARLES WAGNER

By the same author, "The Simple Life," "The Better Way," "Justice," etc.

Mr. Wagner refers to this volume as the notebook of his life, in which he has jotted down opinions on all questions of conduct and thought as they have been suggested to him by incidents of his experience.

Cloth. Net, $1.00; postpaid, $1.08.

A Thrilling Story of LOVE and MYSTERY

The Golden Greyhound

By DWIGHT TILTON, author of "Miss Petticoats," etc. Illustrated by E. Pollak. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50

Here is an up-to-date story of love, adventure and mystery, with wireless telegraphy and all the modern improvements, that will not let you rest until you see how it is coming out. The hero is a rich young New Yorker and former Yale athlete. He is so attracted by a lovely face as to follow its possessor, a young woman whose personality is worthy of her great beauty, on board an Atlantic liner, called "The Golden Greyhound" on account of a vast shipment of gold, forgetful that he has just spent all his money. With him is a choice character, his valet, "Jay," a Yankee farmer youth, who figures extensively in the exciting voyage, which is filled with adventurous incidents by a stupendous plot concerning the gold. The hero is instrumental in solving a most baffling mystery, and his rash journey brings great happiness to all but the perpetrators of the audacious scheme. The book is as rich in humor as it is fertile in invention, and is strikingly handsome in make-up.

The Latest and Best New England Romance

The Girl from Tim's Place

By CHARLES CLARK MUNN, author of "Uncle Terry," etc. Illustrated by Frank T. Merrill. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50

This is an intensely dramatic story of a girl of striking beauty, nicknamed "Chip" by lumbermen, who dares sixty miles of almost pathless Maine wilderness to escape a fate worse than death. She is saved by a camping party, containing, among others "Old Cy Walker," one of the finest woodsmen and country humorists in all fiction. There is also a young man who cannot help falling in love with "Chip" as she rapidly develops into an attractive companion. Meanwhile, pursuit takes place, also a dark tragedy involving "Chip's" father, and leaving her an heiress, although she does not know it until much later, and then only through the devotion of "Old Cy." Then follow complications resulting in flight and a new life for "Chip" as Vera Raymond, beautiful, commanding, and admired. How the links are discovered uniting past and present for the heroine, and also for faithful "Old Cy," forms Mr. Munn's masterpiece.

Our Purchase of the William Collins Co.

It has already been announced that we have acquired the American branch of William Collins Sons & Co., Ltd., of London and Glasgow, but we would call attention at this time to some of the valuable publications which we are thus enabled to offer to our friends in the trade.

SEVERAL EDITIONS OF SHAKESPEARE.

Shakespeare in the best one-volume thin paper edition now on the market. Shakespeare in 6 little pocket size volumes and Shakespeare in the handy Stage Edition, 40 volumes, each containing one play.

ILLUSTRATED POETS.

The Collins edition of the poets has been noted for clear type, fine thin paper, beautiful illustrations and handsome bindings. The list includes the prominent poets of England and America. Each is complete in one volume measuring 5½ x 7¾ inches, with an average of 24 full-page illustrations and 4 to 7 color plates.

Cloth, $1.50; Full Leather, limp, $2.00; Full Leather, padded, $2.50.

THE ILLUSTRATED POCKET NOVELS.

STANDARD TITLES.

Small books on thin paper, with clear type and new illustrations make these exceedingly attractive. About 30 of the best-loved novels are now ready and others are in preparation. Each contains from 8 to 16 very good illustrations by the best living artists.

Size, 4 x 6 inches. Cloth, 75 cents; Leather, limp, $1.00.

BIBLES AND OTHER BOOKS.

The Collins business furnishes us with a great number of other books and juveniles which are listed in our catalog of books and also with a number of clear type Bibles, listed in the International Series of Bibles of which we are the publishers. Every bookseller should have a copy of the International Bible Catalog, which shows more than 600 styles of type and binding. We will send copies on application.

STANDARD EDITIONS OF STANDARD AUTHORS.

The Household Library of Standard Classics.

More than 100 volumes are included in this library, an excellent series of the best Fiction History, Biography, Essays, etc., well printed on good paper and bound substantially in cloth. The half-calf bindings are hand-made throughout, and hand-tooled. Sold separately and boxed in sets.

12mo., maroon cloth, titles on leather labels, gilt tops. Price per volume, 75 cents. Half-calf, hand-made, hand-tooled, gilt tops, $1.50.

WILL ISSUE IN MARCH

THE THROWBACK

By ALFRED HENRY LEWIS

Illustrated by N. C. Wyeth, Price $1.50

A romantic story of the Southwest in the days when the buffalo roamed the plains; when the Indian Council fires still smoked and the law of the strongest prevailed. Few know the West as Mr. Lewis knows it, and he has written here an intensely interesting novel full of incident, adventure and humor.

THE LUCKY PIECE

By ALBERT BIGELOW PAINE

Frontispiece in color; Price $1.50

A tender, sweet, wholesome love story, the scene of which is laid mostly among the mountains of the Adirondacks. The Lucky Piece is an old Spanish coin and it plays an important part in the story. How the somewhat idle and blasé young townsman found himself, through the influence of the forest and mountains, will appeal to all lovers of the outdoors.

THE PRAYING SKIPPER

By RALPH D. PAINE

Illustrations by Blumenschein, Lyendecker, Aylward, and Sidney Adamson, Price, $1.50

The readers of Ralph Paine's stories as they appeared in the magazines will hasten to buy this volume just for the pleasure of preserving the stories and reading them again. The book contains the following: "The Praying Skipper," "A Victory Unforeseen," "The Last Pilot Schooner," "Surfman Brainard's Day Off," "The Jade Teapot," "Captain Arendt's Choice," and "Corporal Sweeney, Deserter."

SIDE SHOW STUDIES

By FRANCIS METCALFE

Profusely Illustrated by Oliver Herford, Price $1.50

Mr. Metcalfe's book tells many funny things of the freaks and the exhibits. The yarn of how the elephant was whitewashed, how a mouse busted up the mermaid show and the many other droll stories, make a volume at once amusing, instructive and entertaining.

WILL ISSUE IN APRIL

THE PASS

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE

With marginal decorations on every page and many illustrations from photographs. 8vo, $1.50 net.

A companion volume to "The Mountains" and "The Forest," containing the story of a remarkable trip across the high Sierras. For brilliant description, entertaining and humorous incident, vivid love of forest and mountain, this narrative probably excels everything Mr. White has yet written, and will no doubt be the leading outdoor book of the year.

REPORT ON COLONIAL ADMINISTRATION IN THE FAR EAST—Volume 1, Burma

By ALLEYNE IRELAND, F.R.G.S.

This is the first volume in the extended report which Mr. Ireland is writing on the colonies of the Far East and which is receiving the warm approbation and encouragement of the political, economic and educational world. The volume on Burma is complete in itself and it contains chapters on: a general description of Burma; its acquisition by the British; its government; its general administration; financial administration; municipal administration; education; public works; forest administration; administration of the Shan States and the Chin Hills; industries, commerce and shipping; medical and sanitary administration; general review of the administration of Burma; together with appendices relating to treaties, census and other statistics, and a bibliography.

The information in this book is brought down to the present time and it must serve as the standard volume on Burma for many years to come. No public or college library can afford to be without this exhaustive work, which is printed in limited edition.

Subscriptions are received by the publishers, who will forward specimen pages and terms upon request.

WITH WALT WHITMAN IN CAMDEN

By HORACE TRAUBEL

A Diary Record of Conversations, with many Important Letters and other Manuscripts. Copiously illustrated with 35 full-page portraits and facsimiles.

One of Whitman's literary executors and for many years his neighbor and intimate friend.

Whitman's daily life and thought is at last given to the interested public. The period covered by this diary was in Whitman's last years when his judgments and personality were finally matured. We have here Whitman's own words regarding most of the important literary and personal events of his life and his comments on nearly five hundred contemporary littérateurs.

Horace Traubel was Whitman's tacitly authorized biographer, and this record of what Whitman did and said from day to day is practically an autobiography.

The chief newspapers are devoting from two columns to a page to review notices of this book, which is declared by the Public Ledger of Philadelphia to be "one of the most remarkable biographical volumes that has appeared in the last hundred years."

This volume is sumptuously illustrated and handsomely bound. pp.xiv+473. Price, net, $3.00; by post, $3.20.

A SYSTEM OF SURGICAL NURSING

(With an appendix containing useful formulæ, emergency drill, etc.)

By A. N. McGREGOR, M.D., F.F.P.S.G.

This is a practical and authoritative book on nursing and all that pertains to it, prepared by one of the surgical staff of the Glasgow Royal Infirmary. It will be valuable not only to physicians and nurses, but also as a book of guidance and reference for family use. Every point that can arise in the practice of nursing is treated with definiteness and lucidity. As an emergency book or as a guide where a trained nurse is not available this book will prove invaluable. Cloth, pp. 554. Net, $3; by post, $3.20.

In press.

THE HUMOR OF BULLS AND BLUNDERS

EDITED BY MARSHALL BROWN.

The hearty reception accorded Judge Brown's Wit and Humor of Well Known Quotations, published last year, bespeaks the attention of readers for this companion volume which is equally entertaining. Judge Brown has exercised rare judgment in the selection of curious and comical Bulls and Blunders which are gathered from far and near and which cover a wide range of topics. They are recorded systematically, which masses their peculiar strength and renders them easily available for amusement or use. Cloth. Net, $1.20; by post, $1.30.

JOHN FISKE

By THOMAS SERGEANT PERRY.

A new addition to the Beacon Biographies. This is the first biography of John Fiske, who was perhaps the most widely known of American scholars. All those who have read John Fiske's works on History and Philosophy, or heard him lecture, will wish to read this fascinating account of his life and work and the manifestation of his genius, written by his almost life-long friend, Thomas Sergeant Perry. Pocket size, cloth. Net, 75 cents; by post, 80 cents.

JOSIAH WARREN

By WILLIAM BAILIE.

A Sociological Study of the Founder of Philosophic Anarchism; a Boston philosopher now little remembered, but who was honored by John Stuart Mill and whose mechanical inventions included the cylinder press. His life has never been published before, and the volume is one of permanent value as well as of curious interest. 16mo, cloth, with frontispiece portrait. Net, $1; by post, $1.08.

Below the Dead Line

By SCOTT CAMPBELL

When Inspector Byrnes commanded the New York police force he found it necessary to issue an order calling for the instant arrest of every crook found day or night in that part of the metropolis lying south of Fulton Street. This stringent order quickly gained for the district the title "Below the Dead Line." For several years a number of crooks succeeded in operating in the district despite the police, and Mr. Scott Campbell has chronicled their doings. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

Party Leaders of the Time

By CHARLES WILLIS THOMPSON

Not dull biographies, but pen portraits of the great figures in the nation by the Washington correspondent of the New York Times. Character studies at close range which make clear and vivid the personalities of men you have read about. Includes the President and Cabinet, leaders in Congress, diplomats, and other men of mark. Illustrated with 32 portraits of the most prominent characters mentioned, 12mo, cloth, $1.75 net.

Lady Jim of Curzon Street

By FERGUS HUME

A new novel. Strong character delineation and an excellent story depicting frivolity and its deadening effects on the devotees of fashion. Lady Jim herself, the chief character in the book, has been drawn with the skill of a master hand. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

A Common Sense Hell

By ARTHUR RICHARD ROSE

Being the practical thoughts of a business man about the future fate of the wicked, contained in letters to his son. Does Hell Fire insult your reason and arouse your anger? Do you dread Hell Fire? Does your sense of justice revolt against eternal Hell Fire for the sinner? Are you going to the Devil? Then get acquainted with his home. 12mo, cloth, $1.00 net.

Skiddoo

By the author of "John Henry," etc. Fully up to the standard of the nine preceding volumes which now reach a sale of nearly 600,000 copies. Nowhere in all the history of literature can there be found any set or series of humorous books which will compare with "John Henry" in popularity. Stop and think what a task it must be to write one successfully funny book and then consider what it means to follow that up with nine others just as good and just as successful. Cloth bound, illustrated, 75 cents.

THE MOSHER BOOKS

APRIL ANNOUNCEMENT

I

THE IDEAL SERIES OF LITTLE MASTER-PIECES

I. THE SWEET MIRACLE
BY EÇA DE QUEIROZ.

II. POEMS IN PROSE
BY OSCAR WILDE.

III. HAND AND SOUL
BY DANTE GABRIEL ROSSETTI.

This new Series in its inception is one of the most attractive of Mr. Mosher's varied attempts in producing beautiful editions at a merely nominal price. The selections as shown by the above titles are along lines of the purest literary values, and will embrace poetry as well as prose.

Printed in Caslon 10-point old-style Roman, enclosed in rules, after an approved Chiswick format on a size and finish of Van Gelder hand-made paper made to order, THE IDEAL SERIES is unsurpassed in the attention bestowed upon technical details. Done up in Japan vellum wrappers with a special design in gold upon a ground work of green these little volumes possess an air of distinction which will appeal to the most fastidious booklover.

PRICE PER VOLUME, 40 CENTS NET.

II

A NEW "VEST POCKET" VOLUME.

A LITTLE BOOK OF NATURE THOUGHTS SELECTED FROM THE PROSE WRITINGS OF WALT WHITMAN BY ANNE MONTGOMERIE TRAUBEL

A very delightful little compilation made at the request of the publisher who believes that in Whitman's prose is discoverable a mine of nature lore of unsuspected richness; a wealth of utterance to be ranged alongside Jefferies and Thoreau and which will stand the test of unbiassed criticism.

Printed on Van Gelder hand-made paper of special size, the type set in old-style 8-point Roman (2¾ x 5½ in. page), with Chiswick ornaments and original cover design, these exquisite little books should not be confounded with any other so-called "just as good" Vest Pocket Editions.

A. S. Barnes & Company's Spring Books

Joseph C. Lincoln, MR. PRATT. A Novel. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, $1.50. (Ready in May.)

Mr. Pratt, clam digger, is confronted by two Wall Street men and their valet, who wish to lead the "natural life." They hire Mr. Pratt to help them do it. The result is astonishing. The love affair is equally delicious. The story, as simple as "Cap'n Eri," is a delightful comedy of misunderstandings.

Jane Grosvenor Cooke, THE ANCIENT MIRACLE. A Romance of the Northern Wilderness. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, $1.50. (Ready in April.)

Full of the mystery and charm of a great forest and the love of a great-hearted people. The story is alive with fascination and witchery.

Emerson G. Taylor, THE UPPER HAND. 12mo, cloth, $1.50. (Ready in May.)

In the Squire's house, in a New England village, there has been a tragedy. Later a piratical sea-farer appears and the village becomes a scene of strange adventure.

Ernest Poole, THE VOICE OF THE STREET. A Story of Temptation. 12mo, cloth, $1.50. (Ready in May.)

A great singer, born in a tenement house and lifted from obscurity by a wonderful voice, finds his place in the great life of New York. The gambling fever is in his blood. It is a story of temptation and conflict, of love and self-sacrifice, and of the feverish pulse of the metropolis ruled by the fever of chance.

Tudor Jenks, IN THE DAYS OF SCOTT. Small 12mo, cloth, illustrated, $1.00 net; by mail $1.08. (Lives of Great Writers Series.)

In sketching the picturesque period of the "wizard of the north," Mr. Jenks has done full justice to the earlier dramatic times of Jacobite uprisings which produced an atmosphere that influenced Scott peculiarly. He outlines the surroundings, influences and conditions of one of the most interesting periods in the history of English literature.

TELLER OF TALES

A Story of Roman Britain

By C. BRYSON TAYLOR

THE publication of a beautifully decorated romance by A. C. McClurg & Co. has now become an annual feature. The plan has been to provide a veritable gift-book at the price of a regular novel, and to keep alive the interest in mediæval romance of the greater kind—the kind first told in the sagas, and in legends and ballads, and made to live again in the pages of Malory and Froissart.

"Nicanor" belongs in this class. It is well-planned, well-written, and carried out in a broad heroic style. It has the true romantic quality, and the publishers have no hesitation in saying that in strength and interest it is equal, if not superior, to any of their previous successes of this especial kind.

The action occurs at the time when the Saxons were beginning their inroads upon the Romans, and this period presents splendid material for bold and picturesque treatment by the Kinneys. In the characteristic borders, headpieces, and initials in tint with which the book is enriched, and in the five full-page illustrations in color they have far surpassed their former work.
